GRAND JURY TAKES UP GOULD CASE; CALLS BINGHAM

Commissioner Summoned as the First Witness, Gives All the Facts in His Possession Concerning Alleged Activities of Subordinates.

Gets Details Concerning the Reputed Conspiracy of Police Officials to Blacken the Name of Mrs. Howard Gould at Husband's Instigation.

The criminal phase of the "Gould conspiracy," especially in so far as Former Inspector William W. McLaughlin and his old staff were concerned, was taken up by the Grand Jury to-day, when it summoned Police Commissioner Bingham and questioned him at length on the result of his investigation.

Though District-Attorney Jerome had stated to the Commissioner that he did not think the charges of a criminal plot against Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould could be taken up before the June Grand Jury was sworn, Gen. Bingham was suddenly summoned to his office to-day and then conducted to the Grand Jury room.

Frank Brainard, foreman of the Grand Jury, questioned the Police Commissioner on the Gould case and police affairs generally. Mr. Brainard was an active member of the Goo Goos and a prominent member of the Citizens' Union.

McClellan Takes a Hand. The Police Commissioner was summoned by the Mayor shortly after arriving.

WESTERN COTERIE CLEAN UP $20,000 ON AMPEDO'S WIN

Los Angeles Bunch, Headed by John Brink, Scorched the Pool-Rooms There.

TUOHY LED COUP HERE.

Waited Until Last Moment to Get Bets Down, Then Sent Their Money Along.

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, May 21.—Fully $30,000 was won by the Los Angeles coterie today when Ampedo won the second race from Coy Maid and other fast ones, the plunges being led by "Mike" Tuohy, a well-known Western Commissioner, who did not enter the ring until the price against the California-owned colt had soared to 10 to 1 and above. Then the money went on chunks.

The Western pool-room division was made the object of special attack. One was sent to the Los Angeles restaurateur and player and reported owner of the colt, and gamblers received the bill of fare here.

It appears that the change in the race, it is agreed, was heavily directed against the pool-rooms. By letting the plunge here to the last minute, the money was secured in the Western pool-rooms.

The Western pool-room division was also made the object of special attack. One was sent to the Los Angeles restaurateur and player and reported owner of the colt, and gamblers received the bill of fare here.

Following the success of Belmont, another Westerner was sent to sea to oversee the steamship aboard which August Belmont sailed for Europe to attend the English Derby.

McLennan, Mr. Bingham, will witness the running of the English Derby and be present to the King.

Lucky Jack Dies Dead Gone.

"Lucky Jack" McGinnis started what was then believed to be a selling point in the race, but he died gone.

He died gone with the fifth race. McGinnis bid the animal up to $2,000, and Madden refused to save the racer. After the animal was knocked down to McGinnis, the latter handed his hand to Madden. The latter said he entered no hard feelings.

Long Shot Wins First.

When the horses were called to the post in the first race the track was dry on top, but slippery with mud underneath. The crowd was by no means large and betting opportunities in the ring were not as difficult if negotiation of odds was concerned.

The Belle winning in a drizzle half a length Rusching, played in century notes by a select few, managed to grab third place.

It was the last jump of the race, but Rusching was catching the tail-enders in the last few jumps of the race.
